

Western artists exhibit work at CB Center for the Arts

The Art and Music Departments at Western Colorado University are proud to present the 2021 Western Student Juried Art Show at the Crested Butte Center for the Arts.

This exhibition of visual art features finely crafted paintings, photos, prints, ceramics, jewelry and installation work by 21 current art students at Western Colorado University. This exhibition was juried by Rosalind Cook, an internationally recognized sculptor who lives and works in Crested Butte. As Rosalind describes in her juror's statement, these 27 carefully selected works convey "both strong pictorial elements but also make an impact on an emotional and intellectual level."

The exhibition opening is on April 9 from 4:30 – 7:30 p.m. The Western Colorado University Music Department will also provide a sonic backdrop to the event with a three-hour long musical performance in the first-floor atrium. The musical performance will feature both individual student and faculty performances along with larger ensembles that will encompass different musical styles throughout the evening.

This event is free and open to the public, but capacity may be limited due to COVID restrictions. If you are unable to attend the opening, the exhibition will run until May 2, 2020. A very special thanks to the Student Art League, Art and Music Departments and the Council for Creative Expressions for supporting this event.

Exhibiting Artists include: Sarah Ackerman, Evan Allison, Catherine Barisas, Ariel Benney, Erica Casey, Tyler Catalito, Emma DeHaven, Aly Hargrove, Jay Hickox, Brenna Hilgers, Meghan LaHatte, Daniel Lesh, Aaron Mason, Tanner Marcus, Nia Morales, Erin Riley, Mallory Siebenneicher, Matt Smith, Danielle Vitulli, Nathan Walsh and Ruby Woodings.

"Jurying for this show was a great privilege," said Cook. "Each of these students are on a journey of growth and discovery. I commend each one and I encourage them to push on through to the next level."

"What stands out to me about the first ever Western Student Juried exhibition is the extremely high craft of work presented," said Anders Johnson, professor of art foundations at Western and curator of the show. "Even though we had two devastating campus shutdowns because of the pandemic, students were dedicated to their craft and put in an incredible amount of time and effort into their individual works.

"The Center is thrilled and honored to host the very first Western Art Department's Sprint juried show. We are grateful for the opportunity to interface with Western's students, present their incredible work in our Kinder Padon Gallery, and grow the educational partnership between Western and the Center," concluded Center associate director Melissa Mason.
