ALPINE RACE PROGRAM

Katie Davidson enters her fifth year as an alpine race coach for CBMST. She took over as the lead race coach mid-season last year and remains in the position for the 2020-2021 season. Davidson has seen her program grow over the past couple of years and looks to build off of what started to grow last year prior to COVID.

"Things were going great and it's exciting to keep building the program from there," Davidson. "I think there's an understanding that having kids in the race program helps in all aspects. It builds a baseline of racing technique that can be used in freeride also."

Davidson has four coaches this year and 12 athletes in the comp race program with six at the u14 level, five at the u16 level and one at the u19 level.

While dry land training was bit curtailed, Davidson says they still got some of the kids out prior to the snowfall to prepare for the upcoming season.

"Some of the older kids got to do two weeks of dry land training and there were definitely a lot of kids doing it on their own or playing other sports," says Davidson.

One of the biggest challenges for alpine race programs is training areas at their home resort. Davidson touts the cooperation of Crested Butte Mountain Resort to get her athletes on the hill for some early morning training last season and plans for this season as well.

"We are able to get in some early morning speed training on International and even over on Paradise," says Davidson. "It's great to be able to switch it up and get some more terrain for them."

Even this past weekend with limited terrain open, Davidson and the CBMST athletes managed to get some training in.

"We got some lane space on Sunday and got some brushes in the ground so they were able to get some race specific training," says Davidson.

The alpine racers have a situation similar to the freeride team when it comes to competitions.

"There really isn't a race calendar out there," says Davidson. "I feel like some races are planned for January and the speed event in Aspen in February which the kids love and I really hope that happens. Besides that, everything is up in the air but our fingers are crossed. We will just be more focused on training at home and more focused on being a better skier and less race focused."

All in all the CBMST is set up for success again this season, no matter what the winter and COVID throw at them.

"We've been able to manage our growth and it should be a really good season," says Dujardin.

D. Source. The subject spring is tributary to the Slate River, in the drainage of the East River, a tributary to the Gunnison River. E. Amount. 0.055 c.f.s., conditional. F. Appropriation Date. April 21, 1986. G. Uses. Commercial and recreational purposes. 4. Detailed outline of work performed to complete application of water to beneficial use. The subject water right is part of an integrated water supply system used by Applicant at the Crested Butte Ski Area. Applicant and its predecessors have engaged in numerous activities during the relevant diligence period that demonstrate diligence toward the application of the subject water right to the decreed beneficial uses, and have incurred significant expense in investigations and capital improvements related to its water supply facilities in order to provide a dependable legal and physical supply of water at the ski area. All such expenditures are necessary steps in the development of Applicant's integrated water supply and snowmaking system, which include the subject water right. Applicant's efforts toward development of the subject water right during the diligence period include, but are not limited to, the following: A. The subject water right is part of an integrated system of artificial snowmaking for the Crested Butte Mountain Resort within the U.S. Forest Service Special Use Permit boundary. This Special Use Permit was last renewed in September, 2018. B. Applicant acquired the Crested Butte Ski Area, including the subject water right, in 2018 in a transaction that included two other ski areas at a total cost to Applicant of over $220 million dollars. C. Applicant, or its predecessors, made significant expenditures to improve the snowmaking system at the ski area during the diligence period, which improvements were either necessary for or will directly benefit the integrated snowmaking system at the ski area, including the development of the subject water right. The annual total of such expenditures during the diligence period is as follows: 2014, $137,000; 2015, $31,000; 2016, $64,000; 2017, $64,850; 2018, $55,000; and in 2019, after Applicant acquired the ski area, $247,400. The expenditure for 2020 through the date in November when this Application is filed has been more than $100,000. D. Applicant has studied the snowmaking diversion facility on the East River and has spent considerable time and funds on potential improvements and changes to the diversion structure, which improvements benefit the snowmaking system generally. Among other activities, Applicant filed and has prosecuted pending Case No. 20CW3039 seeking a finding of reasonable diligence for a 5 c.f.s conditional water right decreed for diversion at the East River point of diversion. E. Applicant has regularly monitored the filings of other water users in Water Division No. 4, and has incurred legal and engineering costs in connection with these activities to protect its water rights. F. Applicant has participated in numerous discussions, meetings, and planning sessions regarding the North Village Development where this water right may be put to beneficial use for commercial or recreational uses, including but not limited to snowmaking or culinary use. G. Applicant continues to rely upon the subject water right and has no intention to abandon it. 5. Name(s) and address(es) of owner(s) or reputed owners of the land upon which any new diversion structure, or modification to any existing diversion is or will be constructed or upon which water is or will be stored, including any modification to the existing storage pool: The diversion structure is on land owned by the United States Forest Service, Gunnison National Forest, 216 N. Colorado, Gunnison, CO 81230. WHEREFORE Applicant requests the Court enter a decree finding diligence in the development of the subject water right and continuing the subject water right in full force and effect for an additional diligence period. (5 Pages). GUNNISON COUNTY

YOU ARE FURTHER NOTIFIED THAT you have until the last day of January, 2021 to file with the Water Clerk a Verified Statement of Opposition setting forth facts as to why a certain application should not be granted or why it should be granted only in part or on certain conditions. A copy of such a Statement of Opposition must also be served upon the applicant or the applicant's attorney and an affidavit of certificate of such service shall be filed with the Water Clerk, as prescribed by C.R.C.P.
